About the Canebrake Players

In 1981, a group of local thespians came together to form the Canebrake Players. Productions have included comedy, drama, mystery, musicals, and fantasy, housed in the historical Old School on Main. A children's play each year provides excellent training, including production techniques and acting skills. In 1992, a scholarship was established which is presented to a high school senior who has participated over the years. While some productions have featured professional directors, almost all the directors, actors, and crew members volunteer their time to bring the arts to Demopolis.

Director's Note

Welcome to our theatre and our production of Fruitcakes! We are so glad that you came! The Cast Members and Crew have worked very hard to bring you a great show!

Tonight, they will transport you to the small town of McCord's Ferry ... not so different from our small town ... where during a Christmas season filled with confusion, hurt, and loneliness, the characters find in each other the strength to reach out to those they love most. The play touches on how chance encounters change our lives - as much as an angel visit might.

It has been my privilege to once again be a part of a Canebrake Players production.
